DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Restriction is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 and 372.

This application contains the following inventions or groups of inventions which are not so linked as to form a single general inventive concept under PCT Rule 13.1.

In accordance with 37 CFR 1.499, applicant is required, in reply to this action, to elect a single invention to which the claims must be restricted.

Group I, claims 1-6, drawn to a casing.

Group II, claim 7, drawn to a method of making a method of use of a thermoplastic.

2. Evidence of lack of unity between groups I and II is found in, for example, USPN 6,783,821 wherein it is found to disclose the features of instant claim 1. As such, the special technical features of the claimed invention are not found to define a contribution over the prior art under PCT Rule 13.2.

3. During a telephone conversation with Harold Pezzner on March 24, 2008 a provisional election was made with traverse to prosecute the invention of Group I, claims 1-6. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claim 7 is withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

4. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a invention to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected invention.

If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable upon the elected invention.

5. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Specification

6. The abstract of the disclosure is objected to because language that can be implied such as "The invention relates to" (line 1) should be avoided. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

7. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 1794

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

8. Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ries et al. (USPN 6,783,821).

In regard to claim 1, Ries et al. teach a hollow molded article (such as a container) (col. 10, lines 20-30 and col. 2, line 30) comprising a mixture of at least two polyamides (col. 2, lines 27-63) and a flame retardant (col. 9, lines 59-66). Since the composition comprises a flame retardant and polyamides, the composition is a flame-retardant thermoplastic. Since the composition comprises polyamides, the composition has a polyamide-based structure. The two polyamides have different solution viscosities because the two polyamides are different polyamides (and, consequently, different materials). The hollow molded article of Ries et al. corresponds to the claimed casing. The recitation “for an electronic device comprising a cathode-ray tube or a flat screen” (lines 1-2) is an intended use phrase that has not been given patentable weight, since it has been held that a recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed article is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed article from a prior art article satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQd 1647 (1987).

In regard to claim 2, Ries et al. teach that nylon-6 is a suitable polyamide for the mixture of at least two polyamides of Ries et al. (col. 2, lines 27-63).

In regard to claim 3, Ries et al. teach that nylon-6,6 is a suitable polyamide for the mixture of at least two polyamides of Ries et al. (col. 2, lines 27-63).

In regard to claims 4 and 5, Ries et al. teach that melamine cyanurate is a suitable flame retardant for the flame retardant of Ries et al. (col. 9, lines 59-66).

In regard to claim 6, the recitation “the electronic device is a television device or a monitor” is an intended use phrase that has not been given patentable weight because the recitation “the electronic device” refers to the recitation “for an electronic device comprising a cathode-ray tube or a flat screen” (lines 1-2 of claim 1), which is an intended use phrase that has not been given patentable weight, since it has been held that a recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed article is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed article from a prior art article satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQd 1647 (1987).
